IV ARTICLE

THE THEME OF THE CONTEST

In the works of the participants of the project – the art of miniatures (the small format of painting, graphics, appliques, textile, painting on silk, glass, ceramics, computer graphics or mixed techniques used in art works) with the help of art expression means it has to be reflected the relationship between human and nature.

If you look around you will easily see a person having a pet. Every living creature no matter if it is furry, feathered or with a spiny coat, awards its master with a bunch of different emotions and new experiences. They help us to see our everyday life colours anew. They cheer us up, surprise us, raise pity, help us to survive our losses, or get better. There are more and more people who spend their leisure with a pet. Probably it is not just a momentary whim but a conscious and responsible attitude to the living being, its needs and chances to interact.
